~Introduction~

Partners in Education, created and coordinated by the Greater Hall Chamber of Commerce, is a joint effort with the Chamber of Commerce, Hall County and Gainesville City School Systems. Established in 1990, the program has supported the formation of over 250 business-education partnerships which serve to enrich the educational process and strengthen our schools. These partnerships foster closer links between schools and the business community and are essential in preparing a better educated workforce, thereby supporting economic development.

The program helps to bridge the gap between the community and its schools for the mutual benefit of students and the residents of Gainesville-Hall County. Business partners engaged in the program will gain firsthand experience along with many benefits the program offers. Successful collaboration and cultivated relationships will afford both partners many rewards and satisfaction if the right components are in place.

~Mission~

To establish and foster a voluntary cooperative relationship between the school and industry through their mutual adoption of one another and to support and enrich the existence of both.

~Goals~

- ❖ Improve and increase attendance
- ❖ Improve grades
- ❖ Increase graduation rates
- ❖ Increase mentoring participation

“Shared leadership... is less like a an orchestra, where the conductor is always in charge, and more like a jazz band, where leadership is passed around ... depending on what the music demands at the moment and who feels most moved by the spirit to express the music.” Schlechy 2001

~What is Partners in Education?

Partners in Education (PIE) is a cooperative effort of the Greater Hall Chamber of Commerce, Gainesville City Schools and Hall County Schools. From mentors and tutors, to attendance contests, rewards for high achievement to providing supplemental instruction and motivational recognition for student achievement, the impact of the partnerships and quality of involvement is exceptional.

PIE program supports quality education and promotes a better understanding among schools and businesses with an objective to assist all students in developing valuable skills that will prove useful for years to come.

- ❖ Partners and schools choose their level of involvement, which may include volunteering, in-kind contributions or financial assistance.
- ❖ A school and its partner design activities each year that are mutually beneficial. A partnership is not a one-way relationship; it takes both parties to develop a meaningful collaboration.
- ❖ Defining roles and responsibilities helps minimize problems that could materialize later.
- ❖ Determine resources and needs of both school and community partners.
- ❖ Each partnership is unique in its relationship with each school and is individually planned by the school and the partner.
- ❖ Partners are as diverse as the schools they champion.
- ❖ Whether you are a small business or a major corporation, our schools need you!
- ❖ Business partners should support the core mission of the school.

~Partners-At-Large~

A Partner-At-Large is a business or an organization that forms a partnership with four or more schools or adopts a system-wide program. A Partner-At-Large must be approved by the school Superintendent's office. The purpose of the partnership is to allow a business or organization to offer its resources for the benefit of the school system.

For a list of Partners-At-Large, see page 17.

~How Do I Become a Partner?

A school may initiate a partnership, or the business may contact the school to discuss their individual PIE policy and goals. Brainstorm with the PIE contact on how your organization can help with their goals and their immediate and long term needs. If the business and school believe the partnership is mutually beneficial, the agreement form should be signed by both parties and processed at the superintendents' office; the form is then sent to the Greater Hall Chamber of Commerce. All parties should keep a copy of the agreement.

For more information about becoming a Business Partner, please contact individual schools, see contact information on pages 11-13.

~What is Junior Achievement?

JA Worldwide is a partnership between the business community, educators and volunteers — all working together to inspire young people to dream big and reach their potential. JA's hands-on, experiential programs teach the key concepts of work readiness, entrepreneurship, global business perspectives, and financial literacy to young people all over the world.

A want versus a need, how to balance a checkbook - don't you wish that someone had taught you these things as you were growing up? Now there is someone. YOU. All that is needed is your enthusiasm, life experiences, and a willingness to teach children about how you took chances and shot for the stars. Junior Achievement provides the training, curriculum, and a classroom ready to meet you.

~The Commitment

Your commitment could vary from a single school day for a Job Shadow experience, to a weekly visit of one hour each for 5 to 10 weeks. It all depends on the grade level of the program you choose. We're flexible! Junior Achievement has been promoting business education since 1919, first through an after-school secondary program, and later through in-school partnerships with educators. The cumulative impact on students is currently nearly 80 million, and growing. The impact is measurable, too. According to independent evaluators, students who participate in Junior Achievement programs demonstrate a significant understanding of economics and business concepts, particularly those who participate in programs at consecutive grade levels. The volunteers go through a one-time training - online or personal, individual or group— scheduled at their convenience.

~Why Junior Achievement in the Classroom?

Junior Achievement's unique delivery system provides the training, materials, and support necessary to bolster the chances for student success. At a teacher's invitation, JA will arrange for business people and local community leaders to visit a classroom a few times or throughout the semester. The volunteers share their work experiences with the students while presenting the JA program.

~Volunteer...

JA is a wonderful opportunity to give back to the community while inspiring students to reach their fullest potential, and preparing them to succeed in a global economy.

Annual clean ups of streams and storm drain stenciling are also a part of this program. All grade levels are encouraged to take advantage of presentations given in their class that cover: water conservation, sources of pollution, watershed protection, recycling and environmental monitoring.

~Students are encouraged to participate in the annual fire hydrant decorating contest (elementary school students) and the rain barrel decorating contest (middle school students) in the spring. ~History of Recycling

PowerPoint presentation with limited use of visual aids suitable for high school level and above. Requires 45 minutes.

The history of reuse is almost as old as the history of mankind, but recycling – which mainly involves remelting - is a much more recent concept, probably dating back to circa 7000 BC. This became possible only after man had learned to make, control and use fire - a sometimes dangerous enemy - for melting and remelting metals.

It is also a story of how raw materials have become increasingly scarce, not only because the earth's population and consumption of raw materials per individual have increased, but also because mankind became increasingly careless and wasteful in dealing with these raw materials. This wastage continued until people began to realize that the earth's supply of most of the so-called primary raw materials - such as ores and minerals - was limited and that increasing amounts of energy would be needed to extract these materials from greater depths as supply dwindled. People also realized that secondary raw materials, in particular metals and glass, could be endlessly recycled. It was recognized that recycling would save a lot of money and energy while reducing damage to the environment.

~Living in a Recycled Material World

Presentation using many visual aids with or without accompanying PowerPoint suitable for 3rd grade on up. Requires 45 min or up to an hour depending on audience questions.

Find out how we all use and depend on things made from recycled content every day and don't realize it. We truly do live in a recycled material world!

~Paper Making

Presentation utilizing a short video followed by hands-on paper making suitable for K-12 and up. Requires 30 to 45 mins.

Learn about the history of paper making and making of recycled paper in this hands-on presentation.

~Jackson EMC’s Educational Programs include a PowerTown Safety Demonstration as well as a Bucket Truck/Equipment Demonstration. Though both presentations can be geared up or down to any school grade/level, students from elementary to middle school seem to enjoy the bucket truck demos, and 5th grade–9th grade benefit best from the PowerTown programs. All grade levels can take advantage of both presentations; however, the PowerTown demo might be geared more in theory for high school students.

PowerTown is just as it sounds, a mini town made up of electrical circumstances and covers commonly asked electrical situations/hazards. Likewise, the Bucket Truck demos are where our line-men bring a truck and have a visual presentation. Class topics covered include: electrical safety, energy efficiency, the path of electricity and power restoration. We also have literature for all school ages/grades that can accompany the presentations.

(Side note: Students are encouraged to apply for any of Jackson EMC’s annual opportunities such as: A.T. Sharpton Scholarships, Walter Harrison Scholarship, Washington Youth Tour, Energy Bowl and Youth Citizenship Award. Junior Solar Sprint opportunities are becoming available at the middle school level).

~Arts in Schools™

The Arts Council, Inc. introduced the Arts in Schools (AIS) program to the Gainesville and Hall County school systems in 1980. The program was enthusiastically approved by the Board of Education of both Gainesville and Hall County schools. The purpose of AIS is to introduce children to art of every form to instill both an appreciation and an excitement about the arts, using in-school demonstrations and applications.

~How Arts in Schools (AIS) Works

The AIS program is available to any school in the Gainesville and Hall County school systems and area private school institutions. To participate, each school identifies someone to serve as their AIS coordinator. These coordinators work with teachers, parents, volunteers, and administrators planning exciting and educational performing, visual & literary arts programs. Many of these programs are presented with a lesson plan that reinforces academic curriculum requirements, which provides students a creative twist to learning. The AIS coordinator/committee at each school develops a budget for the school year to facilitate the desired enrichment programs. In addition to budget planning, the AIS Coordinator/committee contacts the artists to schedule their performance or presentation and provides any assistance required by the artists. The Arts Council subsidizes Arts in Schools with resources and volunteers in order to help make the program a success each year.

~The Arts Councils Role

We create an AIS Resource Guide containing a host of arts program ideas and an exhaustive directory of artists available for school programming along with their fees (when available) and contact information. Artists in the AIS Resource Guide include painters, poets, dancers, musicians, actors, mimes, quilters, writers, puppeteers, potters, storytellers and more. Each AIS school receives two complimentary AIS Resource Guides. Additional copies are available for sale. To assist with each school's AIS planning efforts, The Arts Council plans and leads workshops and meetings with AIS coordinators throughout the year.
